ESG Integration Summary

The team use a bottom-up ESG framework, developed in-house, to assess quantitatively the sustainability risk associated with current and potential underlying investments. Using the SASB materiality framework, the team have developed a scorecard that is used to evaluate a company based on various industry-specific ESG criteria. 'Materiality' and 'transparency' are two key components of the scorecard: the materiality component ensures the key risk factors to a company's operations are assessed, and the transparency component informs the team of the drivers of ESG scores at a granular level.

The team supplement this with a rigorous qualitative review, which features assessments of material risks and opportunities, good governance, executive remuneration, carbon transition, and exposure to negative externalities. Further information is available in the fund's Approach to Responsible Investment and ESG paper, available here.

Fund Weighted Average Carbon Intensity (WACI)* in tCO₂e/$M revenue

The fund's carbon intensity is measured and reported over time.

Source: Guinness Global Investors, CDP; Coverage: 100% (2021, 2022, 2023, 2024, 2025).

*The Weighted Average Carbon Intensity (WACI) metric is calculated by multiplying the carbon intensity (emissions relative to revenue in millions USD) of each fund holding by its portfolio weight (the value of the holding relative to the total value of the portfolio, excluding cash). Carbon intensity is based on Scope 1 and 2 emissions. Scope 1 emissions are direct greenhouse gas emissions from sources that are owned or controlled by the company. Scope 2 emissions are indirect greenhouse gas emissions from the generation of energy purchased by the company (Reference: GHG Protocol). Coverage refers to the percentage of the carbon intensity data available at the date of publication for underlying fund holdings (as a percentage of total assets excluding cash).

Stewardship

Stewardship activities form part of the investment process applied by the team. We believe that resourcing our stewardship activities within the investment team itself, with dedicated assistance as required, is the best way to ensure effective stewardship. The investment team's ESG incorporation approach often informs their proxy voting and engagement activity. In a spirit of transparency, we disclose fund-level voting and engagement statistics and case studies for calendar year 2025 below.

Voting

The investment team make their own voting decisions based on their own research, supported by proxy voting research from Glass Lewis. All voting is undertaken by the investment team, with oversight provided by our Responsible Investment Committee. In order to vote, some markets require shares to be temporarily immobilised from trading until after the shareholder meeting has taken place (referred to as 'share blocking'). Some other markets require a local representative to be hired, under a Power-of-Attorney (POA), to attend the meeting and vote on our behalf. In such instances, it may sometimes be in clients' best interests to refrain from voting. But in all other circumstances we endeavour to exercise our voting responsibilities on clients' behalf. For more information, please see our Voting Policy, available on our website.

Voting Case Studies

Hubbell is a global electrical products and utility solutions company. Since holding the stock, we have not supported the re-election of the external auditor due to concerns over excessive tenure, which currently stands at 64 years.

At the company's most recent AGM, this issue resulted in 14% shareholder dissent. We will continue to monitor auditor independence and tenure as part of our ongoing governance oversight.

Edwards Lifesciences is a global medical technology company. Over the past three years, we have not supported the advisory vote on executive compensation, including at the most recent AGM, where we voted against the resolution alongside 12% of shareholders.

Our concerns relate to the design of the long-term incentive (LTI) plan, which is based entirely on total shareholder return (TSR). We believe that over-emphasising TSR is not optimal, as share price performance should be the outcome of strong operational execution rather than a primary objective. In addition, TSR can be materially influenced by external factors, including market sentiment and broader macroeconomic conditions, which are outside management's control.

We will continue to engage with the company and monitor any developments in its executive remuneration framework.

Engagement

The investment team focused their engagements in 2025 around improved ESG disclosures from portfolio companies.

Engagement Case Studies

Recordati is a global pharmaceutical company. In September 2025, we engaged with the company to seek an update on its progress towards setting science-based emissions reduction targets. Recordati confirmed that it is making progress in reducing operational emissions and has committed to reducing Scope 1 and Scope 2 emissions by 2030.

The company also noted that it is currently consolidating its methodology for calculating Scope 3 emissions. At present, Recordati does not have a defined Science Based Targets initiative (SBTi)-aligned target covering Scope 3 emissions and has not yet set a public timeline for doing so. However, the company indicated that it plans to evaluate the feasibility of setting such targets in the future.

We will continue to engage with Recordati and monitor progress towards the development of comprehensive, science-based emissions targets.

Entegris is a global supplier of materials and solutions for the semiconductor industry. In February 2024, we engaged with the company to encourage it to register its 2030 emissions reduction targets with the SBTi.

In January 2025, we were pleased to see Entegris commit to a near-term science-based emissions reduction target. The company has stated that, by committing to the SBTi and initiating a comprehensive process to calculate its Scope 3 greenhouse gas emissions across all relevant categories, it is better positioned to manage climate-related risks, improve operational efficiency and meet evolving customer expectations.

We look forward to monitoring Entegris's progress as it advances the implementation of its science-based targets.

Collaborative engagement

We are a member of CDP, which allows us access to environmental data for all companies that report to CDP. Through our membership, we participate in collaborative engagements, such as the CDP Non-Disclosure Campaign (NDC). The NDC aims to drive further corporate transparency around climate change, deforestation and water security, by encouraging companies to respond to CDP's disclosure requests.

Initiatives

We participate in relevant industry initiatives to promote the proper functioning of markets, responsible investing, and the management of market-wide and systemic risk. Where appropriate, members of the investment team will use initiatives to engage collaboratively with portfolio companies.
