Important Information	20

RISK: The value of an investment and the income from it can fall as well as rise as a result of market and currency movement, and you may not get back the amount originally invested.

Investors should be willing and able to assume the risks of equity investing. The Funds invest in certain sectors and regions and are therefore susceptible to the performance of these sectors and regions and can be volatile.

Further details on the risk factors are included in the Funds' documentation, available on our website (guinnessgi.com/literature).

The Funds are all actively managed with the Benchmark Index used as a comparator benchmark only.

Performance: Past performance does not predict future returns.

Investors should note that fees and expenses are charged to the capital of these funds. This reduces the return on your investment by an amount equivalent to the Ongoing Charges Figure (OCF). The fund performance shown has been reduced by the average OCF over 2024. Returns for share classes with different OCFs will vary accordingly. Transaction costs also apply and are incurred when a fund buys or sells holdings. Performance returns do not reflect any initial charge; any such charge will also reduce the return.

The Funds in this brochure (apart from Guinness Emerging Markets Equity income and Guinness Pan-European Equity Income) are also available to UK investors as a UK-domiciled vehicle denominated in GBP.

INTRODUCTION

Our quality equity income approach was born in the wake of the Financial Crisis.

Aiming to build a strategy that could weather a variety of future economic conditions, in 2010 portfolio managers Matthew Page and Ian Mortimer developed an approach focussed on companies that consistently generate high return on capital. These persistent returns lend themselves well to a reliable and growing dividend, allowing investors to harness the power of compounded dividends over the long term, or the potential for growing income.

This approach builds on Guinness Global Investors' firm-wide approach of disciplined screening and valuation modelling, a broadly equally weighted approach, low turnover, and concentrated portfolios. By taking the view that dividends should be outcome of effective business models that generate cash returns, the Guinness quality equity income approach rejects the traditional – and perhaps intuitive – practice of screening for high-yield stocks, and instead begins with a search for high-quality companies.

We have found this approach effective both globally and regionally: a focus on persistently high return on capital companies that are attractively valued, with low leverage, and that pay a dividend which we are confident can grow in the future.

Following the extraordinary challenges for investors in recent years, we are even more convinced of the merits of our approach today than in 2010. We hope you find the enclosed information a useful summary of the benefits of our differentiated approach to investing for global or regional equity income.

WHAT MAKES GUINNESS EQUITY INCOME FUNDS DIFFERENT?

We identify the four pillars of our investment approach for equity income as Quality, Value, Dividend and Conviction.

We focus on good businesses whose Quality is measured by their record of cash flow returns on capital being usefully above the cost of capital achieved for a minimum of 8-10 consecutive years. We have established that persistence over this length of time leads to a high probability these returns will be sustained and that if the share price does not reflect this likely persistence, there could be a Value opportunity.

The Dividend a company pays is an 'outcome'; it is the result of growing cash flows, capital discipline and shareholder-friendly management. Conviction and investment discipline are maintained by a concentrated, equally weighted portfolio with a fixed number of positions. The investment decision hinges on whether the share price undervalues the expected operational performance of the business.

DIVIDEND GROWTH RATHER THAN HIGH YIELD

The Funds aim to deliver long-term capital growth, a moderate yield and a growing income stream.

We invest in dividend-paying companies, but we don't select companies on the basis of a high yield.

In fact, we deliberately ignore yield in selecting our pool of companies that we can invest in (our 'universe') and focus instead on identifying quality, well-run, profitable companies.

WE TARGET QUALITY COMPANIES FIRST

Specifically, we screen the world's 16,000 listed companies, and identify only those that have achieved a high return on capital every year for several consecutive years.

It is a rare achievement for a company to meet our criteria, and on average, only 3% of global listed companies do so. We believe that it is a mark of real quality in a company.

QUALITY LEADS TO DIVIDEND GROWTH

Our screening identifies an abundance of companies with attractive dividend yields. On average since 2000, over 50% of companies in our investment universe have yielded over 2%. This means we can build a sensible portfolio with a moderate yield and good potential for dividend growth.

DIFFERENTIATED PORTFOLIOS

With quality rather than yield as our starting point, we identify many well-known blue-chip companies, but we also find a broad range of companies that are less well-known and may be outside the traditional dividend-paying regions and sectors.

We avoid companies that look good in yield terms but don't pass our return-on-capital requirements. This means we don't invest in companies that might be cheap for good reasons (so-called 'value traps'). Our aim is to hold good companies at attractive valuations.
