Risks

The Guinness China RMB Income Fund is a bond fund. Investors should be willing and able to assume the risks of bond and fixed income investing. The value of an investment and the income from it can fall as well as rise as a result of market and currency movement, and you may not get back the amount originally invested. For full information on the risks, please refer to the Prospectus, Supplement, and KID/KIID for the Fund, which are available on our website.

Source: FE fundinfo net of fees to 31.05.25. Graph is in CNH. Investors should note that fees and expenses are charged to the capital of the Fund. This reduces the return on your investment by an amount equivalent to the Ongoing Charges Figure (OCF). The OCF used for the Fund performance returns is 0.60%, which was the OCF over the calendar year 2024. Returns for share classes with a different OCF will vary accordingly. Transaction costs also apply and are incurred when a fund buys or sells holdings. The performance returns do not reflect any initial charge; any such charge will also reduce the return. Historic yield reflects the distributions declared over the past 12 months expressed as a percentage of the mid-market price, as at the latest month end. It does not include any preliminary charges. Investors may be subject to tax on the distribution.

Fund Profile

Aim

Growth and income.

Investment Case

One of the primary reasons for launching the Fund is our belief that the Renminbi (RMB) is currently undervalued in 'Purchasing Power Parity' terms, both on absolute measures and relative to China's net foreign assets. We believe the Renminbi could appreciate by an average of 1.5% to 2.5% a year, on average, over the next ten years against its trade-weighted basket of currencies (IMF WEO, Guinness estimates).

Process

The Fund will invest in government and quasi-sovereign bonds in the onshore China bond market, as well as supranational and high-grade corporate credit in the offshore bond market.

Portfolio

A high conviction, short duration strategy, with a targeted duration of three years or less.

Investment Objective

The fund is actively managed without reference to a benchmark or comparative index for performance comparison purposes.

For the avoidance of doubt, if you decide to invest, you will be buying units/shares in the Fund and will not be investing directly in the underlying assets of the Fund.
